

Course Introduction Video

This form helps create a course video introduction. There are a number of questions on this form. Each question has its own answer box. Each answer box has some further questions or points to help you elaborate. Provide your answers by replacing the points in each box.

The answers you provide will be the script for the course introduction video. The course introduction video can be created through one of the following scenarios:

- You record the video yourself
- You record audio over slides
- Ask your instructional designer to use the information on the form to produce an animated introduction video

Check this link for some sample video introductions

Course Title

What makes this course great?

- What compelling questions does the course ask or answer?
- What is at stake in those questions?
- How will students be different after taking the course?

How do you conduct a typical class or lesson

- What formats do you employ?
- How much students will interact with you?
- How much students will interact with each other?

What will assessments or feedback be like?

- How will students demonstrate their learning?
- What format of assessments?
- How do you provide feedback, especially by the midterm?

What work will students do in this course?

- Present an example of what students will create
- Detail the workload
- Address what the course doesn't cover